A 'looked after child' (LAC) is any child or young person taken into care by the local authority ('in public care'), being accommodated by the local authority or remanded/detained. The child's placement may include living with a relative, emergency care and short or long term formal foster placement. The statutory guidance now applies to academies, and to children who were previously a looked after child. 'Previously LAC' is defined as a child who is no longer LAC because they have been adopted, placed under a special guardianship order, or a child arrangements order.

Accommodation (Section 20):

A voluntary arrangement with parents as they may be ill, missing, unable to cope for a period of time. The parents retain parental responsibility.

In Care:

If a court has granted a Care Order (Section 31(1) or interim care order (section 38) which it will issue if it believes a child is suffering or is likely to suffer significant harm. A Care Order gives additional parental responsibility to the local authority which it shares with the birth parents.

Remanded/detained into care:

Relates to children who are the subject of emergency orders. Police may use their powers of protection and courts may remand into care following criminal charges.

The local authority and the school are the 'corporate parents' of the child as well as other involved professionals and have a duty to work together to ensure that the child/young person is fully supported during their period of compulsory education and beyond this if they choose to continue in education after the age of sixteen. Looked after and previously Looked After Children and previously Looked after and previously Looked After Children are recognised to be a very vulnerable group in terms of education and future life chances and may have some or all of the following issues:

- Low self esteem
- Poor education standards due to time out of school
- Delayed social/emotional/cognitive development
- Be bullied or bully others
- Be prone to mental health issues
- Be isolated with few friends
- Have behaviour issues
- Poor attachments to others

The 2018 guidance now refers specifically to the higher likelihood that such young people will experience periods of mental ill-health as a result of their early experiences. In particular, the guidance says that designated staff should have a good understanding of attachment issues, and should raise awareness of these issues with staff.

The Governing Board of Shillington and Stondon School, is committed to ensuring that these children are supported as fully as possible and, as part of its Corporate Parenting role, will ensure that the following are in place and are working effectively:
